Map of Penang

Welcome to Penang

The history of modern Penang can be traced back to 1786 when Sir Francis Light persuaded the Sultan of Kedah to cede 'Pulau Pinang' (Betel Nut Island) to the British East India Company. Originally named the Prince of Wales Island, the settlement that soon grew was named Georgetown after King George III. In 1800, the Sultan of Kedah further ceded a strip of land on the mainland across the channel.

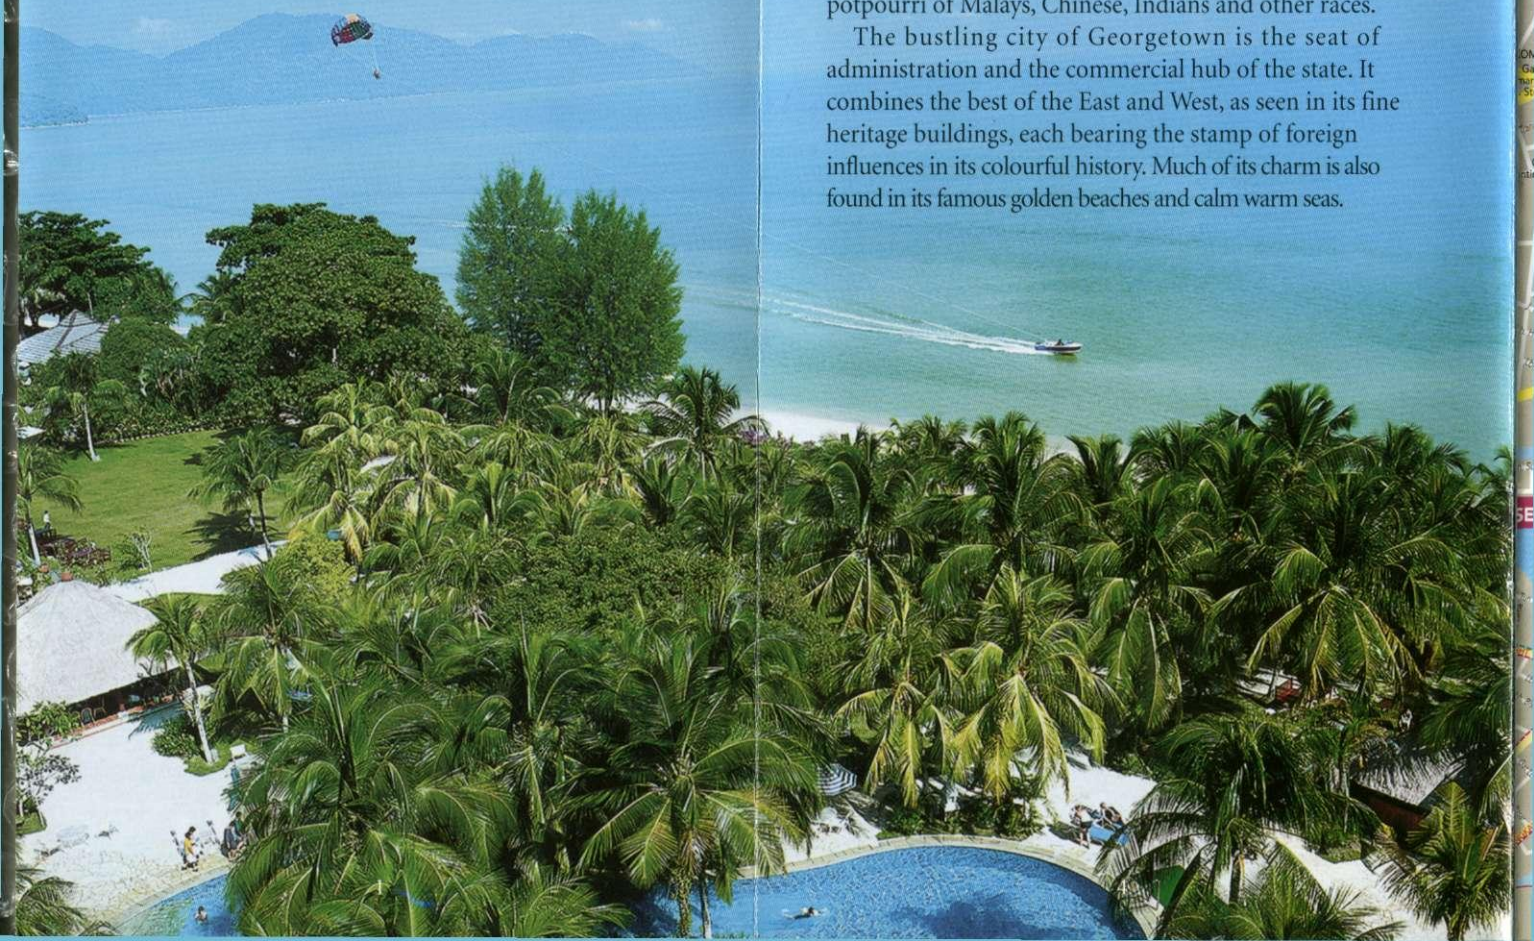

In 1832, Penang formed part of the Straits Settlement with Malacca and Singapore. For more than a hundred years, it remained under British Colonial Rule until 1957 when it gained independence and became part of the Federation of Malaya.

Penang - Pearl of the Orient

The Pearl of the Orient comprises of the island of Penang (285 sq km), which lies off the northwestern coast of Peninsular Malaysia, and Seberang Perai (760 sq km) on the mainland. They are linked by the Penang Bridge and a cross-channel ferry service. Its multiracial population of 1.4 million represents a harmonious cultural potpourri of Malays, Chinese, Indians and other races.

The bustling city of Georgetown is the seat of administration and the commercial hub of the state. It combines the best of the East and West, as seen in its fine heritage buildings, each bearing the stamp of foreign influences in its colourful history. Much of its charm is also found in its famous golden beaches and calm warm seas.

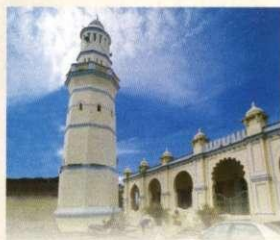

Culture and Heritage

Trace Penang's colourful history and experience the exotic melange of cultures as you embark on a leisurely round-island tour.

Acheen Street Malay Mosque

In 1820, Syed Sheriff Tengku Syed Hussain Aidid donated a piece of land on which was built the Acheen Street Malay Mosque, which is also known as Masjid Melayu. An interesting feature here is a small window halfway up the minaret. It is said to have originally been a hole made by a cannonball fired during the 1867 triad riots.*

Opening hours: 11am – 5pm

Cheong Fatt Tze Mansion

A stately Chinese dwelling with 18th and 19th century Chinese architecture, the interior features beautiful bedrooms, libraries, ceremonial halls, courtyards and gardens. In the year 2000, it won the 'Most Excellent Project' for the UNESCO Asia-Pacific Heritage Awards for Culture Heritage Conservation.

This indigo-blue mansion houses a rare porcelain collection, sculptures, carvings, tapestries, embroideries and antiques. Across the road are five blue shophouses which were formerly quarters of the servants attached to the mansion.

Chinatown

Stretching from Weld Quay to Lebuhr Stewart, Lebuhr Campbell to Lebuhr King, Chinatown is large, well-preserved and provides a fascinating insight into the lifestyle of Chinese immigrant settlers who came here in the 1800s.

Visitors will be intrigued by the many clan houses, shophouses and temples found along these streets.

Dharmikarama Burmese Temple

A pair of elephants guards the entrance to this Burmese temple. Within the pagoda grounds are a Bodhi tree and wishing pond. It is the venue of many celebrations held during the water festival in April.

Opening hours: 9am – 5.30pm

Fort Cornwallis

The fort was built on the site of Sir Francis Light's historic landing in 1786. Originally a wooden stockade, it was replaced by a concrete structure built by convicts in 1804. Today, an open-air amphitheatre, a history gallery, café as well as a handicraft and souvenir centre occupies the interior. It also houses the famous Dutch cannon or meriam seri rambai presented to the Sultan of Johor by the Dutch which was brought to Penang after being looted by the Portuguese.

Opening hours: 9am – 6.30pm
Tel: 04 - 261 0262/3

City Hall

The City Hall is another fine example of a well-preserved building from the heyday of the British Empire. A short stroll from this building is an art gallery, Galeri Pinang, which is located in Dewan Sri Pinang. It contains fine prints of Penang in the early days.

Kek Lok Si Temple

One of the finest Buddhist temples in Southeast Asia, the Kek Lok Si Temple stands majestically on a hill in Ayer Itam. Built in tiers, the temple boasts the beautifully crafted 'Pagoda of Ten Thousand Buddhas'.

Taking more than 20 years to build, the temple is set

Khoo Kongsi

It is by far the grandest clan temple on the island. The forefathers of the Khoo family, who emigrated from South China, built it as a clan house for members of the Khoo family. The building was so magnificent that upon its completion in 1898, the roof caught fire, some believe, due to its resemblance to the Emperor's palace in China.

It features a magnificent hall embellished with intricate carvings and richly ornamented beams of the finest wood bearing the mark of master craftsmen from China.

Opening hours: 9am – 5pm

Tel: 04 - 261 4609

Little India

With a history dating back over two centuries, Little India emanates old-world charm. Fringed by Market Street, King Street, Queen Street and Penang Street, this quaint Indian town boasts the 167 years old Sri Mahamariamman Temple, the island's first Indian temple.

Worth browsing here are the pre-war terrace buildings which house restaurants, jewellery and textile shops, dress retailers, music stores, barbers as well as shops selling spices, sundries and cutlery.

Pinang Peranakan Mansion

Contained in this mansion are richly ornate artefacts related to the history and colourful lifestyle of the Baba Nyonya (Straits Chinese) people of Penang.

There are elaborate traditional costumes and accessories, lovely porcelain pieces as well as furniture and works of art brought in from China and Europe, which were specially commissioned by the Baba and Nyonya families and handed down through the generations.

Diverse Natural Attractions

Explore Penang's diverse natural attractions and find yourself at sun-drenched beaches, verdant parks and fascinating farms.

Penang Hill

Malaysia's first hill station, Penang Hill is 830 metres (2730ft) above sea level. Visitors can ascend to the top by either hiking up or by travelling in the funicular train which has been operational since 1922.

Apart from the cool, refreshing climate and fantastic view at the summit, visitors can also view a beautiful flower garden and bird park. There are picturesque bungalows and a hotel as well. Refreshments and snacks are sold at a convenient tea kiosk located on top of the hill.

There is a good four-hour walking trail up the hill which is recommended only for the more energetic. The jungle trail begins at the Moongate on Jalan Air Terjun, approximately 300 metres from the entrance of the Penang Botanical Gardens.

Penang National Park

The park offers some excellent trails through the rainforest and attractions at the park include Teluk Duyung, a broad bay protected by the Cape of Muka Head and Pantai Kerachut.

Pantai Kerachut is popular as a picnic and camping site. It is also a site where the green turtles come to nest from April to August while the Olive Ridley turtles come between September and February.

The area contains a meromictic lake about one square kilometre in size, where fresh water from the island's stream meets sea water. During dry seasons and low tide, the lake is a mudflat and when the tide rises, sea water gradually fills the lake while fresh water remains on top of the denser sea water. Certain fish, birds and reptiles have adapted to living within this unusual environment.

Visitors are required to register at the Wildlife Office in Teluk Bahang before entering the park which is reachable by a 30-minute boat ride or 90-minute trek from Teluk Bahang.

Penang's Famed Beaches

Penang's northern shoreline is famous for its beautiful beaches. The beaches at Tanjung Bungah, Batu Ferringhi and Teluk Bahang offer expansive stretches of glittering sand interspersed with secluded coves. It is along this famous coastline that resorts of international standard have sprouted up, offering a host of water sports.

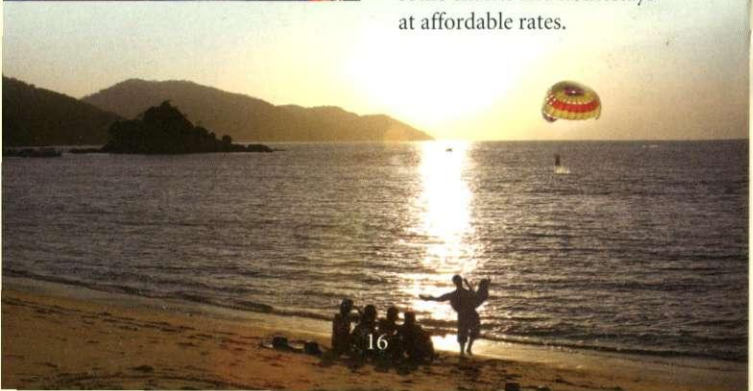

If you crave for privacy, head for Teluk Duyung, Pantai Keracut and Pantai Mas. These beaches are accessible via the trails in the Pantai Acheh Forest Reserve from Teluk Bahang. The Pasir Panjang beach at the southwestern tip of the island is a good clean stretch for swimming and can be reached after a 25-minute hike over hilly terrain from Betong.

Pulau Aman

Pulau Aman or 'island of peace' is about 2.5 nautical miles from mainland, just off the southern coast of Seberang Perai. The nearest town is Bukit Tambun from which a 30-minute boat ride gets one to the island. Boats from Batu Maung and Batu Uban also take passengers on a 45-minute journey to the island.

The 288-acre island is an idyllic fishing village populated by some 300 people who mostly comprise elderly folk and children. Fishing, water sports and jungle trekking are some of the popular activities for holidaymakers. There are some chalets and homestays at affordable rates.

Cuisine and Dining

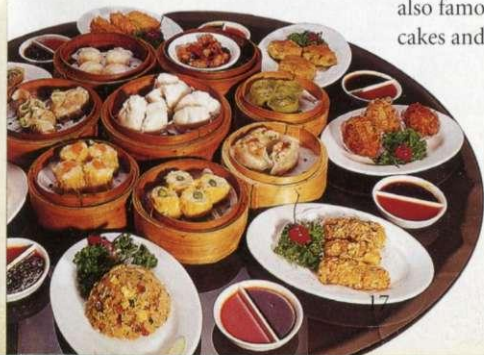

Renowned as the food capital of Malaysia, Penang offers visitors an irresistible selection of exotic local fare.

The delightful variety of Penang food reflects the different cooking styles and tastes of its multiracial population. There is a mouth-watering selection of Chinese, Malay, Indian and Nyonya cuisine to sample, not to mention the irresistible hawker fare.

Not-to-be-missed hawker favourites are noodle dishes such as asam laksa, hokkien mee, char koay teow, and pasembor, a local salad dish. Chinese restaurants also offer Cantonese, Szechuan, Hokkien, Teochew and Hainanese food such as dim sum, rice porridge, chicken rice, diced chicken with dried chillies and a variety of noodles.

Peranakan or Nyonya cooking consists of an exotic blend of Chinese and Malay savoury cuisines. The style of cooking is quite elaborate involving a fine mixture of spices and herbs with onions, garlic and chillies. Nyonya cuisine includes mee siam, otak-otak, kerabu, enche kabin and curry kapitan. They are also famous for their delicious cakes and desserts.

Heading the list of Indian cuisine is nasi kandar, a dish of Indian Muslim origin. South Indian favourites include tosai and idiapom served with thick dhall curry. Northern Indian naan bread with chicken tandoori or chicken tikka are also worth trying.

Malay food is typified by dishes such as sambal tumis, masak lemak and sambal belacan and is easily available. A traditional favourite with locals and foreigners alike is satay.

Gurney Drive

A favourite haunt for food enthusiasts, this stretch of coastal road is famous for hawker foodstalls offering a mouth-watering selection of Penang specialties such as asam laksa, hokkien mee, chee cheong fun, pasembor, rojak and various other delicious local delicacies.

Visitors can stroll along the breezy promenade after a hearty meal and enjoy the scenic seafront view at sunset.

The stalls operate from 6pm.

Shopping

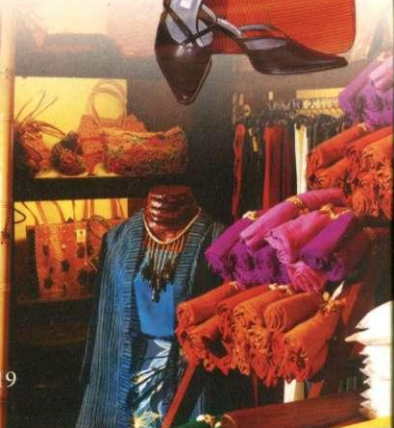

Shop to your heart's content at the numerous modern shopping complexes, retail outlets, handicraft stores, flea markets and sidewalk bazaars in the city.

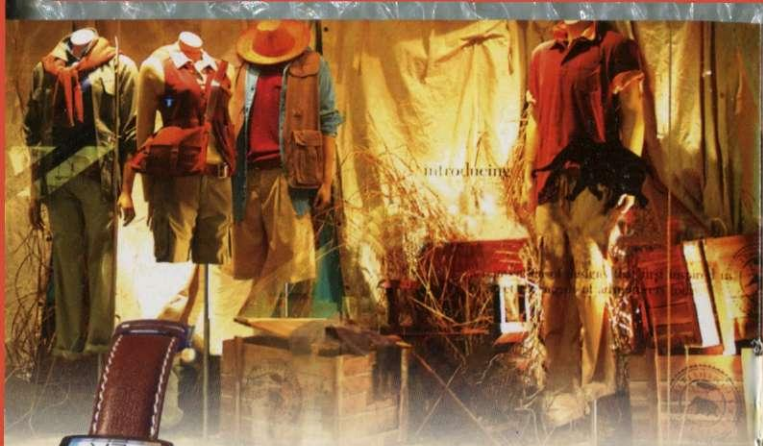

Penang is a shopper's paradise, with hundreds of retail establishments located in and around the city. The main shopping areas are concentrated in Jalan Penang, Lebuhr Campbell, Lebuhr Kapitan Keling, Lebuhr Chulia and Lebuhr Pantai.

The highly versatile batik fabric is available as individually designed pieces or as clothing, table cloths, napkins and furnishings. These items are sold at factories in Teluk Bahang and in souvenir shops at Batu Ferringhi. They are also available at specialist shops in Penang Road and in most department stores and shopping complexes. Batik paintings can also be found in galleries along Jalan Penang, Lebuhr Leith and Batu Ferringhi.

If you are searching for fine jewellery, then Lebuhr Campbell and Lebuhr Kapitan Keling are the places to go. Popular shopping complexes include Gurney Plaza, Prangin Mall, Island Plaza and Midlands One-stop shopping centre.

Penang is also a paradise for antique lovers in search of rare bargains.

The shops along Rope Walk (Jalan Pintal Tali) and the Lorong Kulit flea market offer a wide range of antique items. Bargaining is still very much a part of life here, so don't be afraid to haggle over prices or ask for a discount.

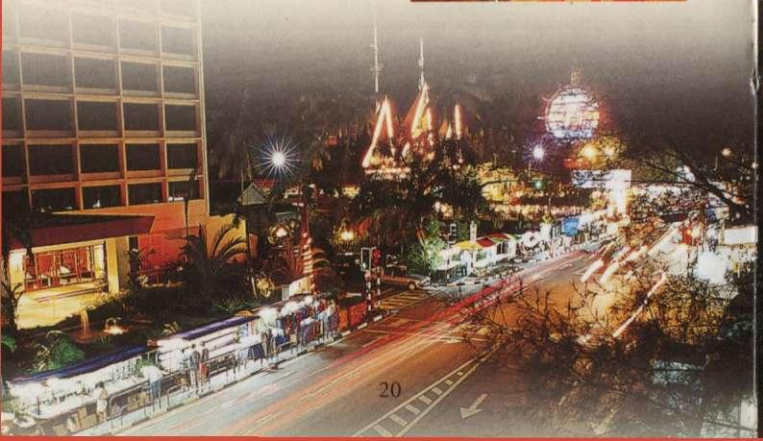

Chowrasta Bazaar

This bustling bazaar is well-known for its delightful labyrinth of stalls with products ranging from local delicacies such as preserved foodstuff, bean paste biscuits to textile, clothing and second hand-books. Located along Penang Road, it is frequented by both locals and tourists.

Batu Ferringhi Sidewalk Bazaar

After sunset, the Batu Ferringhi sidewalk transforms into a bazaar where traders from all over the island set up their stalls. Like the night market, everything from food, clothing, batik, watches, pens and fashion accessories are sold here and bargaining is the order of the day.

The stalls operate from 6pm.

Entertainment

Spice up your visit with a vibrant cultural performance or just soak up the atmosphere at various night spots on the island.

Penang offers an exciting choice of night entertainment and watering holes. These include pubs, karaoke lounges, hotel lobby bars and clubs. In the city itself especially along Upper Penang Road, visitors can find a number of good spots to lighten up, have a drink and chit-chat with friends while being entertained by live bands.

As a majority of the hotels are situated along the Ferringhi belt, that's where you'll find most of the night spots, especially clubs and pubs. You can also catch a cultural performance at the Eden Seafood Village.

 Hotels with MICE facilities*

Meetings, Incentives, Conventions & Exhibitions

Offering modern MICE facilities and a wide variety of attractions, Penang is the ideal destination for both business and pleasure.

Penang is among the leading M.I.C.E. destinations in Asia. Due to its strategic location, it is the Asian base of many electronics companies and has been called the Silicon Valley of the East.

The comprehensive road, rail, sea and air transportation as well as a wide range of accommodation and recreational activities ensures nothing but the best in business and pleasure.

Transportation

One of the country's main transportation hub, Penang is easily accessible whether by air, road or rail, making travelling highly convenient.

Getting There

By Air

Penang is easily accessible by air with daily flights from major capitals of the region. It has links with Singapore, Bangkok, Taipei, Medan and Xiamen, through flights operated by Malaysia Airlines. The airline also operates more than 10 flights daily between Kuala Lumpur and Penang.

The Penang International Airport is about 20km from the city centre. Taxis plying the route follow the coupon system by which fixed fares are charged between the airport and various destinations in Penang. Limousine fares cost slightly higher.

By Road

Penang Island is accessible by road via the Penang Bridge. A charge of RM7 is levied on all classes of cars using the bridge at the toll plaza in Prai on the mainland. No payment is required for the return trip from the island to the mainland.

By Sea

From Butterworth, visitors can take the ferry to Penang Island. Operated by the Penang Port Commission, the ferry service is available for both passengers and vehicles. Fares for passengers and vehicle charges are collected at the Butterworth terminal. No payment is required for the return journey.

Opening hours: 6am – 1am

Ferry charges:

Vehicles – RM 7.70 (car)

RM 2 (motorcycle) RM 1.20 (bicycle)

Passengers –

RM1.20 (adult) RM0.60 (child)

By Rail

The train journey from Kuala Lumpur to Butterworth takes approximately 8 hours and affords passengers views of the scenic countryside of Peninsular Malaysia. Comfortable air-conditioned first and second class coaches are available at reasonable rates.

Malayan Railway or Keretapi Tanah Melayu Berhad (KTM) also operates regular services to Alor Star, Padang Besar, Haadyai and Bangkok from Butterworth. For enquiries regarding train services or fares, call the KTM ticket counter (04-331 2796/261 0290) at the ferry terminal in Penang.

Getting Around

Penang's public transport system is efficient and getting around by taxis, buses or trishaws may be a fun and inexpensive way of catching the sights.

Taxis

City taxis are required to charge according to the meter effective from August 2006. Please request that the meter is switched on before you begin your ride.

Buses

Most buses use coin machines to collect fares. The main bus terminals are at Pengkalan Weld (ferry terminal) and KOMTAR (ground floor). A free shuttle bus service around Georgetown is available on weekdays from 7am – 7pm. It begins at the Jetty (bus stop 1) and passes by Komtar (bus stop 10) before returning to the Jetty (please refer to map).

Trishaws

Besides the novelty of travelling in this three-wheeled vehicle, trishaws allow visitors the opportunity to enjoy the sights in Georgetown at a leisurely pace. One can stop at any point to snap pictures or buy souvenirs.

There is no standard fare and it would be wise to agree on the price before you get on the trishaw. For extended sightseeing, it is advisable to hire them by the hour.
